G/CGI Human geography - Settlements

A settlement is a place where people live.

Hamlet

A hamlet is a place with only a few houses and bits have one shop. Like Houghton Gutteridge it has about 300 people living there but some don't have 300 people living in it and a few farms.

Village

A village is a place with about 100 people living in there it has schools, shops, churches and a couple of shops. Like Blackrod that is kind of small.

Town

A town is a place with about 1000 people live in there. Like Bolton more towns are in there. Like Market town like Chorley.

City

A city is a place a large a large town that has a cathedral with a large cathedral it wouldn't be a city it need to be a large place to live. Manchester.

It's woodcut

Urban means somewhere where there is big and has lots of houses.

Rural means a small place with a few houses and shops.

Which land use was most common?	Housing	Housing	Agricultural
Were there any kinds of land use not present in this area?	Yes Agricultural	No	Yes Industrial
Did you notice any patterns?	The more housing the more retail	The more Agricultural the more less retail	The more Agricultural the less Housing
Other things we noticed	There is a little amount of Industrial	Industrial is on one side and Agricultural	The water and road are together
Summarise the similarities and differences of the three locations.	Every one has housing, retail and leisure. Llangollen is the only one that doesn't have Industrial
